

General Terms and Conditions of:

Artitec Maquettebouw B.V.
Papaverweg 29 B
1032 KE Amsterdam
The Netherlands

Chamber of Commerce No. for Amsterdam: 332427940001

(AS 212-10)

Article 1: Applicability/definitions

1. These General Terms and Conditions shall apply to all offers and all purchase and sales agreements of Artitec Maquettebouw B.V. with its registered office at Amsterdam, hereinafter referred to as "the User".
2. The buyer shall be referred to as "the Other Party".
3. A number of provisions in these General Terms and Conditions shall only include the situation in which the Other Party is a natural person that does not act in the carrying out of a profession or business. The Other Party shall be referred to as "the Consumer" in the context of these provisions.
4. "In writing" for the purposes of these General Terms and Conditions shall mean: by letter, e-mail, fax or any other mode of communication that is regarded as equivalent to writing in view of advances in technology and conventional practices.
5. "Goods" for the purposes of these General Terms and Conditions shall mean: both non-perishable and perishable goods.
6. "Perishable goods" for the purposes of these General Terms and Conditions shall mean: fresh food products or other products the quality of which (can) diminish following the elapsing of a relatively short period.
7. "Non-perishable goods" for the purposes of these General Terms and Conditions shall mean: deep-frozen food products or other products with a reasonably long shelf life or all products with no shelf life.
8. The possible invalidity of (any part of) a provision contained in these General Terms and Conditions shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions.
9. These General Terms and Conditions shall also apply to subsequent orders and part orders flowing from this agreement.
10. A lasting business relationship shall only be deemed to exist if the User has already handed these General Terms and Conditions several times to the Other Party. The User shall not be obliged to produce these General Terms and Conditions in order for them to apply to each new agreement.

Article 2: Establishing agreements

1. The agreement shall be established after the Other Party has accepted the offer from the User even if this acceptance differs in subordinate points from the offer. If however the acceptance by the Other Party differs essentially from the offer, the agreement shall not be deemed established until the User has expressly agreed to these differences in writing.
2. If the Other Party assigns or places an order with the User without first making an offer, the User shall only be bound by this assignment or order after it has confirmed this to the Other Party in writing.
3. The User shall only be bound by verbal agreements after it has confirmed these to the Other Party in writing or as soon as the User has started to carry out these agreements without objection from the Other Party.
4. Additions to or amendments to these General Terms and Conditions or the agreement shall only bind the User after these have been confirmed to the Other Party.

Article 3: Offers, quotations, prices

1. All offers and quotations from the User shall be non-binding, unless they specify a date for acceptance. If an offer or quotation contains a non-binding proposal and the Other Party accepts such proposal, the User shall be entitled to withdraw the proposal within two working days of receiving acceptance.
2. The prices stated in the offers, quotations, price lists and suchlike shall be exclusive of VAT and any costs, for example costs for transport, dispatch, administration and statements of expenses from third parties.
3. A draft estimate shall not oblige the User to deliver part of the proposal stated in this estimate for a corresponding part of the price.
4. If the proposal is based on the details supplied by the Other Party and these details are incorrect or incomplete or are subsequently amended, the User shall be entitled to adjust the prices and/or delivery deadlines stated in the proposal.
5. Offers, quotations and prices shall not automatically apply to subsequent orders.
6. Samples and models that are displayed and/or provided and specifications of colours, dimensions, weights and other descriptions in brochures, promotional material and/or on the User's website shall be as accurate as possible but shall only be intended as a guide. The Other Party may derive no rights from these.
7. The samples and models stated in the previous paragraph shall remain the User's property and shall be returned to the User on first demand at the Other Party's expense.
8.
 - a. If between the date of concluding the agreement and carrying it out, (cost) price increasing circumstances take place for the User as a result of legislation and regulations, currency fluctuations or price changes with respect to third parties or suppliers, etc. engaged by the User, the User shall be entitled to increase the agreed price and charge these to the Other Party.
 - b. In the event of price increases within three months of establishing the agreement, the Consumer shall be entitled to dissolve the agreement giving notice in writing. If the Consumer does not inform the User of its intention to use its right to dissolve the agreement within 14 days of notification of the price change, the User may assume that the Consumer has agreed to the price change.

Article 4: Engaging third parties

The User shall be entitled to have certain deliveries carried out by third parties if and in so far as required for the correct carrying out of the agreement. This shall be subject to assessment by the User.

Article 5: Providing information for advice purposes

1. The Other party must ensure that:
 - a. it shall make available to the User all information required for the execution of the agreement and/or adequate advice in time and in the manner desired by the User;
 - b. it shall inform the User about developments within the organisation that may be relevant for the advice;
 - c. any data carriers, electronic files and suchlike provided by the Other Party to the User shall be free from viruses and/or defects.
2. The Other Party shall ensure that the information provided by it is correct and complete and shall indemnify the User against any third party claims arising from the incorrectness and/or incompleteness of the information.
3. The User shall treat the information provided by the Other Party in confidence and shall only provide the information to third parties insofar as is necessary for the execution of the agreement.

4. If the obligations referred to in this Article are not met, the User shall be entitled to suspend the execution of the agreement and/or the advice until the time that the Other Party has met its obligations. The costs in connection with the delay obtained or other consequences arising from this shall be at the expense and risk of the Other Party.

Article 6: Other obligations of the Other Party

1. The Other Party may only sell on goods delivered by the User in the original packaging from the User or its supplier. The Other Party may make no changes to the original packaging and shall prevent any damage.
2. The Other Party shall be obliged to charge its customers the respective sale price or minimum sale price set by the User or its supplier subject to an immediate and fully payable forfeit of € 500.00 per contravention if it fails to do so without prejudice to the User's right to claim full compensation.
3. If the Other Party fails to meet its obligations and the User fails to require performance by the Other Party, it will not affect the User's right to require performance at a later date.

Article 7: Delivery/completion deadlines

1. Agreed delivery dates can never be considered as binding deadlines. If the User fails to comply or comply on time with its obligations under this agreement, it shall be placed in default in writing by the Other Party whereby it shall be granted a reasonable period in which to still fulfil its obligations.
2. The User shall be entitled to deliver in parts whereby the User may invoice separately for each partial delivery.
3. The risk relating to the goods supplied shall pass to the Other Party at the time of delivery. The term "time of delivery" for the purposes of these General Terms and Conditions shall mean the point at which the goods to be delivered leave the User's premises, warehouse or shop or the point at which the User has informed the Other Party that it can collect these goods.
4. In departure from paragraph 3 of this article, "the time of delivery" as regards Consumers shall mean the point at which the goods are actually available to the Consumer.
5. Despatch or transport of the goods ordered shall take place in a manner to be determined by the User but at the expense and risk of the Other Party. The User shall not be responsible for any damage of any nature whether or not occasioned to the goods themselves and which is linked to the despatch or transport.
6. In departure from paragraph 5 of this article, despatch and transport of the goods ordered shall as far as the consumers are concerned take place at the User's risk but at the consumer's expense.
7. If it is not possible, due to reasons within the Other Party's sphere of risk to deliver to the Other Party (as agreed) the non-perishable goods, or if the goods are not collected, the User shall be entitled to store these goods at the Other Party's expense and risk. Unless the User has expressly stipulated another deadline in writing, the Other Party shall give the User the opportunity within one month of the notice of the storage to deliver the goods or the Other Party shall be required to collect the goods within this period.
8. If the Other Party remains in default in fulfilling its obligation to collect the goods after the period stated in paragraph 7 of this article, it shall be considered legally in default with immediate effect. The User shall then be entitled to dissolve all or part of the agreement with immediate effect without judicial intervention by giving written notice and to then sell the goods to third parties without this resulting in an obligation to compensate for damage, costs and interest.
9. If it appears impossible to deliver the perishable goods (as agreed) to the Other Party due to any reason within the Other Party's sphere of risk or if the perishable goods are not collected, the User shall be in default by operation of law. The User shall then be entitled to sell the perishable goods to any third party in order to limit the damage. If the User does not succeed in selling on the perishable goods, he shall be entitled to destroy them. In the event of sale or destruction the User shall be entitled to dissolve the agreement without judicial intervention by giving written notice without this resulting in an obligation for the User to compensate for damage, costs and interest.

10. The aforementioned shall not affect the Other Party's obligation to compensate for any (storage) costs, damage caused by delay, loss of earnings or other losses.
11. The User cannot be obliged to commence delivery at an earlier stage than after receipt of all necessary details and any agreed (advance) payment from the Other Party. If this leads to delay, the delivery deadlines shall be extended proportionately.

Article 8: Packaging

1. If the User delivers the goods in packaging designed to be used several times, the packaging shall remain the User's property. The Other Party may not use this packaging for other purposes than for which it is intended.
2. The User shall be entitled to charge the Other Party a fee for this packaging. If the Other Party returns the packaging carriage paid within the agreed period, the User shall be obliged to take back this packaging and the User shall refund the fee charged to the Other Party.
3. If the packaging is damaged, incomplete or lost, the Other Party shall be responsible for such loss and shall forfeit its claim for reimbursement.
4. If the damage stated in paragraph 3 of this article exceeds the fee charged, the User shall be entitled to refuse to take back the packaging. The User can then charge the Other Party for the cost price of the packaging minus the fee paid by the Other Party.
5. If the packaging is intended for use only once, the User shall not be required to take back the packaging and it shall be obliged to leave this packaging with the Other Party. The Other Party shall then bear any costs for disposing of this packaging.

Article 9: Complaints and returns

1. The Other Party shall be obliged to check the goods delivered immediately upon receipt and to state any visible deficiencies, defects, damages and/or discrepancies in quantity on the waybill or consignment note.
2. The Other Party shall also report all visible deficiencies, defects, etc. with respect to perishable goods to the User within 24 hours in writing.
3. In the absence of a waybill or consignment note, the Other Party shall be obliged to inform the User in writing as to any visible deficiencies, defects, etc., within 48 hours of receiving the non-perishable goods.
4. The User shall be informed in writing of all other complaints directly following their discovery but within the respective shelf life or guarantee period regarding perishable or non-perishable goods. The Other Party shall bear all risks of failing to report directly. If no explicit shelf life or guarantee period has been agreed, the period of one year following delivery shall apply.
5. The goods shall be considered to have been received in good condition and in accordance with the agreement if no complaint has been reported to the User within the periods stated in the previous paragraphs. No claim may be made in that case against the applicable shelf life or agreed guarantee period.
6. Goods ordered shall be delivered in the (wholesale) packaging kept in stock by the User. Deviations regarding sizes, weights, quantity, colours, etc. that are acceptable in the branch as minor shall not be considered a shortcoming by the User. No claim under the guarantee shall be possible in such case.
7. Complaints shall not suspend the Other Party's payment obligations.
8. Paragraph 7 of this article shall not apply to the Consumer.

9. The Other Party shall enable the User to investigate the complaint and in this context, to provide the User with all information relating to the complaint. If the goods have to be returned in order to investigate the complaint, this shall take place at the Other Party's expense and risk unless the complaint turns out to be valid.
10. All returns shall take place in a manner stipulated by the User and in the original packaging and wrapping.
11. No complaints shall be possible regarding incompleteness in or properties of goods manufactured from natural materials or ingredients if this incompleteness or properties are inherent to the nature of these materials or ingredients.
12. No complaints shall be possible regarding discoloration or slight discrepancies in colours.
13. No complaints shall be possible regarding difference in colour and taste whether or not as a consequence of a changed recipe of food products.
14. No complaints shall be possible regarding goods, which following receipt by the Other Party have changed with respect to their nature and/or composition, have been completely or partly worked or processed or which are no longer in their original packaging.

Article 10: Guarantees

1. The User shall ensure that the agreed deliveries are carried out correctly and according to the norms applying in the branch but shall never provide a more extensive guarantee in this regard than that expressly agreed between the parties.
2. The User shall be responsible during the shelf life or the guarantee period for the usual quality and reliability of the goods delivered.
3. If the manufacturer or supplier provides a warranty for the goods delivered by the User, this warranty shall apply in the same manner between the parties. The User shall inform the Other Party in this regard.
4. If the User obtains raw materials and/or materials from third parties for the production of the goods, the User shall base its opinion in respect of the behaviours and qualities of these raw materials and/or materials on the information provided to the User by the manufacturer or the supplier of those raw materials and/or materials. If a warranty was issued by the manufacturer or supplier for the raw materials/materials supplied, that warranty shall apply similarly between parties. The User shall inform the Other Party in this regard.
5. The User shall not guarantee and shall never be considered to have guaranteed that the goods delivered shall be suitable for the purpose for which the Other Party wishes to work or process these or to use them or have them used unless it has expressly confirmed this to the Other Party in writing.
6. If the Other Party justly makes a claim under the guarantee, the User shall arrange repair or replacement of the goods free of charge or arrange a refund or reduction of the purchase price at the User's discretion. If there is any additional damage, this shall be subject to article 10 "Liability" of these General Terms and Conditions.

Article 11: Liability

1. The User shall accept no liability other than the guarantees explicitly agreed or given by the User.
2. Without prejudice to that stated in paragraph 1 of this article, the User shall only be liable for direct damage. Any liability of the User for consequential damage such as trading losses, loss of earnings and/or losses sustained, damage caused by delay and/or personal or bodily injury shall be expressly excluded.
3. The Other Party shall be obliged to take all measures necessary to prevent or limit any damage.
4. If the User is liable for any damage sustained by the Other Party, the User's obligation to provide compensation shall at all times be limited to the amount paid by its insurer in the respective case. If the User's insurer makes no payment or if the damage is not covered by any insurance concluded by the User, the User's obligation to provide compensation shall be limited to the invoice amount of the items delivered.

5. The Other Party shall commence proceedings against the User no later than six months after the point where it gained knowledge or should have gained knowledge of the damage it has sustained.
6. A period of one year shall apply for the Consumer in departure from paragraph 5 of this article.
7. The Other Party may make no claim under the applicable shelf life or the guarantee nor may it hold the User liable on other grounds if the damage has occurred due to:
 - a. improper use or use contrary to the purpose for which the goods delivered were intended or the directions, advice, operating instructions, leaflets, etc. provided by or on behalf of the User;
 - b. improper storage of the goods delivered;
 - c. errors or incompleteness of the details provided for the User or prescribed by or on behalf of the Other Party;
 - d. instructions or directions from or on behalf of the Other Party;
 - e. repairs or other work or processing being carried out on the goods delivered by or on behalf of the Other Party without express, prior, written approval from the User.
8. The Other Party shall, in the cases stated in paragraph 7 of this article be fully liable for all damage flowing from this and shall expressly indemnify the User from all third party claims to compensate for this damage.
9. The limitations of the liability stated in this article shall not apply if the damage is due to intent and/or recklessness by the User or its supervisory staff on a management level or if mandatory legal provisions oppose this. Only in these cases shall the User indemnify the Other Party against any third party claims.

Article 12: Payment

1. The User shall all times be entitled to demand (partial) advance payment or any other security for payment from the Other Party.
2. Payment should be made within 30 days after the date of the invoice unless the parties expressly agree otherwise in writing. The invoice shall be considered correct if the Other Party has not contested it within this payment deadline.
3. If an invoice has not been paid in full following expiry of the deadline stated in paragraph 2, the Other Party shall be liable to the User for late payment interest of two per cent per month calculated cumulatively over the principal sum. Parts of a month shall be counted as full months.
4. The User shall also be entitled to charge the Other Party for out-of-court collection costs if payment is still outstanding following dunning by the User.
5. The out-of-court collection costs stated in paragraph 4 in case of demands with a principal sum of up to € 25,000.00 shall amount to:
 - a. fifteen per cent of the amount of the principal sum for the first € 2,500.00 of the demand (with a minimum of € 40.00);
 - b. ten per cent of the amount of the principal sum over the next € 2,500.00 of the demand;
 - c. five per cent of the amount of the principal sum over the next € 5,000.00 of the demand;
 - d. one per cent of the amount of the principal sum over the next € 15,000.00 of the demand;
6. If the principal sum exceeds € 25,000.00, the User shall be entitled to charge the Other Party out-of-court collection costs over the first € 25,000.00 in accordance with paragraph 5 of this article and out-of-court collection costs of 10 per cent on the remainder.
7. For calculating the out-of-court collection costs, the User shall after one year be entitled to increase the principal sum of the demand by the cumulatively built up late payment interest in that year according to paragraph 3 of that article.

8. If full payment by the Other Party is not forthcoming, the Other Party shall be entitled to dissolve the agreement by giving notice in writing without any further notice of default or judicial intervention or to suspend its obligations under the agreement until payment has been received or the Other Party has provided proper security for this. The User shall also have the aforementioned right of suspension if it has legitimate grounds to doubt the Other Party's creditworthiness even before the Other Party enters into default regarding payment.
9. The User shall first apply the payments made by the Other Party to settle all the outstanding interest and costs and then against the longest outstanding payable invoices unless the Other Party expressly states at the time of payment that the payment relates to a later invoice.
10. a. The Other Party shall not be entitled to offset claims from the User against any counterclaims that it may have against the User. This shall also apply if the Other Party applies for (temporary) suspension of payment or is declared bankrupt.
b. That stated in sub a. of this article shall not apply to agreements with the Consumer.

Article 13: Reservation of ownership

1. The User shall reserve ownership of all goods delivered and to be delivered up until the point at which the other party has completely fulfilled all payment obligations towards the User.
2. The payment obligations in paragraph 1 shall consist of the payment of the purchase price for the goods delivered and to be delivered plus any demands relating to work carried out in connection with the delivery and demands due to culpable shortcoming by the Other Party in fulfilling its obligations including the payment of compensation, out-of-court collection costs, interests and any penalties.
3. If this refers to the delivery of identical, non-individualized goods, the consignment of items relating to the oldest invoice shall be considered to have been sold first. Reservation of ownership shall therefore rest in any case on all goods delivered, which at the time of claiming reservation of ownership were still in the Other Party's stocks, shop and/or property.
4. The Other Party may sell on goods subject to reservation of ownership in the context of normal business provided it has also stipulated reservation of ownership on the goods delivered with respect to its customers.
5. As long as the goods delivered are subject to reservation of ownership, the Other Party shall not be entitled to pledge these items in any way or to put them at the disposal of a financier.
6. The Other Party shall be obliged to inform the User immediately in writing if any third parties assert reservation of ownership or other rights on the goods subject to reservation of ownership.
7. The Other Party shall be obliged to carefully preserve the goods subject to reservation of ownership and to ensure that they are identifiable as the User's property until it has fulfilled all its payment obligations towards the User.
8. The Other Party shall arrange for consequential loss insurance or fire and theft insurance, that the goods delivered subject to reservation of ownership are covered at all times and to make the insurance policy and the respective premium payment receipts available for inspection by the User on first demand.
9. If the Other Party contravenes the conditions of this article or if the User claims reservation of ownership, the User and its employees shall have the irrevocable right to enter the Other Party's premises and take back the goods subject to reservation of ownership without prejudice to the User's right to compensation due to damage, loss of earnings and interest and the right to dissolve the agreement giving written notice without further notice of default.

Article 14: Intellectual property rights

1. The User is and shall remain entitled to all intellectual property rights which are vested in, arise from, are connected with and/or are part of the goods supplied by the User in the framework of the items delivered under the agreement. All this applies, unless parties have explicitly agreed otherwise in writing.

2. The exercise of the rights referred to in the previous paragraph shall, both before and after the delivery of the goods, be explicitly and exclusively reserved to the User.
3. The Other Party guarantees that all information provided or to be provided by it to the User shall not infringe the copyright or any other intellectual property right of third parties. The Other Party is liable for any damage suffered by the User as a result of such infringements and shall indemnify the User against any third party claims.

Article 15: Bankruptcy and loss of power to dispose of property etc.

1. Without prejudice to that stated in the other articles of these General Terms and Conditions, the User shall be entitled to dissolve the agreement by giving written notice without any further notice of default or judicial intervention at the point where the Other Party;
 - a. is declared bankrupt or files for bankruptcy;
 - b. applies for (temporary) suspension of payment;
 - c. is affected by enforceable seizure;
 - d. is placed under guardianship or judicial supervision;
 - e. otherwise loses the power to dispose of its property or loses legal capacity regarding all or part of its assets.
2. That stated in paragraph 1 of this article shall apply if the guardian or administrator recognizes the obligations flowing from the agreement as liabilities of the estate.
3. The Other Party shall be obliged at all times to inform the guardian or the administrator of the (content of the) agreement and these General Terms and Conditions.

Article 16: Force majeure

1. In the event of force majeure with respect to the Other Party or the User, the User shall be entitled to dissolve the agreement by giving written notice to the Other Party without judicial intervention or to suspend its obligations towards the User for a reasonable period without being liable for any compensation.
2. Force majeure with respect to the User in the context of these General Terms and Conditions shall include: a non-culpable shortcoming by the User, third parties or suppliers engaged by it or other serious grounds on the part of the User.
3. The following shall be considered as force majeure: war, revolt, mobilization, domestic and foreign riots, government measures, strikes within the User's organization and/or that of the Other Party or the threat of this and similar circumstances, disturbances to the exchange rates prevailing at the time of entering into the agreement, business interruptions due to fire, break-in, sabotage, natural and similar phenomena also due to weather conditions, blockades, accidents and similar transport difficulties and delivery problems.
4. In the event of force majeure, the User shall be entitled to dissolve the agreement or to suspend its obligations towards the Other Party for a reasonable period without being liable for any compensation.

Article 17: Cancellation and suspension

1. If the Other Party wishes to cancel the agreement prior to or during its carrying out, it shall be liable for compensation to be stipulated by the User. This compensation shall include all costs already incurred by the User and the damage it incurs due to the cancellation as well as the loss of earnings. The User shall be entitled to set the aforementioned compensation and to charge the Other Party 20 to 100 per cent of the agreed price at its discretion and depending on the deliveries already made.

2. The Other Party shall be liable towards third parties for the consequences of the cancellation and shall indemnify the User for claims from these third parties arising from this.
3. The User shall be entitled to offset all amounts already paid by the Other Party against the amounts of compensation owed by the Other Party.
4. When suspending the agreed deliveries at the request of the Other Party, the fees for all deliveries already carried out and all costs incurred up to that point shall be immediately payable and the User shall be entitled to charge these to the Other Party. The User shall also be entitled to charge the Other Party for all costs incurred or to be incurred during the suspension period.
5. If it is not possible to resume the carrying out of the agreement after the agreed suspension period, the User shall be entitled to dissolve the agreement without judicial intervention by giving written notice to the Other Party. If the carrying out of the agreement is resumed following the agreed suspension period, the Other Party shall be obliged to reimburse the User for any costs due to the resumption.

Article 18: Applicable law/jurisdiction

1. The agreement entered into between the User and the Other Party shall be governed exclusively by Dutch law.
2. Any disputes shall be adjudicated by the competent court in the district where the User has its registered office although the User shall always be entitled to bring the dispute before the competent court in the district where the Other Party has its registered office.
3. The Consumer shall be entitled at all times to opt for the dispute to be adjudicated by the legally competent court provided it makes this choice known in good time to the User. The term "in good time" shall mean: within one month of the User informing the Consumer in writing of its intent to have the dispute adjudicated by the court in the district where it has its registered office.
4. If the Other Party has its registered office outside the Netherlands, the User shall be entitled to act according to that stated in paragraph 2 of this article or at its discretion, to submit the dispute for adjudication by the competent court in the country or the State where the Other Party has its registered office.

Date: 6 June,2011